drawn by President Wilson himself, and said to constitute practically the last efforts of the Washington government to deal with the Huerta authorities by diplomatic means unless there is a decided change of spirit on the part of the officials in Mexico City. The negotiations through John Lind had proceeded to the point where the State Department accepted the indorsement of Federico Camboa for the Presidency as meaning the elimination of Huerta, and where it was confidently hoped that a fair and free election would be held on October 26. Now, however, President Wilson has made it clear that the Washington government had with the events of the last few days—the imprisonment of a dictatorship by Huerta—lost all hope of seeing a constitutional election held by the Huerta regime.

THE POWERS NOTIFIED.

The steps taken by the United States were communicated to all foreign governments. No further negotiations are planned through diplomatic channels and it would not be surprising if John Lind, who has been waiting at Vera Crus to observe the manner in which the Huerta officials carried out their oromises, should return to the United States at once. Huerta's decrees proclaiming himself as on charge of the departments

W ASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The United States government informed Provisional President Huerta today that it looked with abhorrence and amazement upon his assumption of both executive and legislative powers in Mexico, and that in view of his course, it could not regard as constitutional elections planned for October 26.

TWO NOTES SENT.

Two notes were sent, the one strongly phrased and written by Secretary Bryan, inquiring about the safety of the imprisoned members of the Cabinet expressed themselves as astonished at the audictive of the two communications sent to Gen. Huerta through Charge O'Shaughnessy, and all voiced approval of the vigorous representations.

The Cabinet meeting was about to adjourn when press dispatches announced that Senor Querido Mohene, Mexican Congress, and the other drawn by President Wilson himself, and said to constitute practically the last efforts of the Washington row.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OSTON, Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An unprecedented and fearful October gale hit the New England coast early today, spending its fury mainly over Cape cod, catching the coastwise shipping on a lee shore and treacherous shoals. By dawn, one barge, the Sumner B. Mead had been wrecked on the cape shore, but the crew was saved by the tug Paoli.

Near Poliock Rip lightship, a big four-masted ship was discovered in peril, while a radiogram from Nantucket during the forenoon reported a schooner in distress near Sankaty light. EMERYVILLE OBJECTS, Oakland Reformers Fight Establishment of a Little "Barbary Coast" Near Their City.

[87 DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF LARGE EXHIBIT

THE TIMES, Oct. 14 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] The apparent intention to establish a little "Barbary Coast" in Emeryville is causing uneasiness among the so-called reformers in Oakland, who declare that their efforts to make Oakland a moral city will be futile if at her doors all the allurements of night life are permitted.

Industries Are Pledged It is likely that the District At-torney's office will be appealed to, the Oakland authorities having no juris-diction in the matter, and the Emery-ville officials areas. Showing of Country's diction in the matter, and the Emeryville officials apparently being unconcerned at the new developments.

The East Bay tenderloin is bounded by Park street and the Emeryville race track north and south and by Hollis and Holden streets to the east and west. That the maintenance of such a place will be bitterly fought is openly voiced. Steps will be immediately taken by those interested to ascertain what truth there is in the rumor.

CLEVELAND (O.) Oct. 14.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Edward Silberger, 22, assistant postmaster at Pocahontas, Va., was arrested by postoffice in spectors late yesterday at Berea, O., charged with stealing $11,464.

board of directors of the Southern Pacific system.

En route to Los Angeles to take up traffic matters there, he stopped here long enough to discuss transcontinental travel, currency reform, tariff and the great Pacific Coast country. In speaking of the currency, Mr. Krutt-schnitt said that the railroads were feeling the pinch of the restriction of DEPOT PLANS.

"We must have money to run our railroads and anything that pinches ready money pluches us. Our passenger traffic has been light this summer but it is picking up splendidly now in the tourist traffic to Los Angeles and the Pacific Coast. We will have to economize for the present until this money discussion is over, but that is only temporary and will have no permanent effect upon the condition of the country nor affect the railroads."

Mr. Kruttschnitt left today for Tucson, Globe and other division points in Arizona, before continuing to the Coast. He was accompanied by Traffic Manager C. K. Duniap of the Sunset Central lines, and by the officials of the G. H. &. S. A., who left the special here.

Reduction in Price of Sugar Beets at Oxnard Causes Growers to Abandon the Industry.

OXNARD, Oct. 14.—Because of the reduction of 50 cents a ton in the price of beets, anneunced by the sugar factory of the American Beet Sugar Company, the county's acreage of lima beans will be greatly increased in 1914. Very few farmers are planning to plant to beets, and of the 12.000 to 15,000 acres usually planted to beets in Ventura county, a large proportion will be planted to beets more extensively than hereto fore, and ship beets in from Van Nuys. THE RESOLUTION.

The soft green of old Ireland and the gold of Southern California blended into one last evening at the home of Mrs. Julia M. Browne, No. 1136 West Sixteenth street, when Miss Margaret Browne returned to the blood of her ancestors as the bride of Arthur Henry Baldwin Gore, son of Arthur Landers Gore of Dublin, nephew of Cols. George and Ri-iton Gore of the British army, and scion of a family which numbers many among the Irish nobility. The international flavor of the brilliant match is in no wise lessened by the mere fact that the brand new Mrs. Gore is herself of distinguished by the mere fact that the brand new Mrs. Gore is herself of distinguished grish descent, a daughter of the Brownes of Sharen, on the Emerald Isle. OLD AND YOUNG OUT.

Old and young alike were out.
Many women with babes in arms went to vote, while many aged men and women were taken to the polls. Mrs. Elizabeth McManus, aged 83 years, though blind and unable to write, appeared and made her mark in the register of names.

Among the women who worked earnestly against the salcons with all of the alertness and diplomacy of experienced politicians were Mrs. W. A. Galentine, Mrs. Harry Meacham, Mrs. Fred Besona, Mrs. H. Parson, Mrs. Alice Galloway, Mrs. James Mc-Cracken, Miss Lola Citt, Mrs. M. T. Cubberly, Mrs. E. C. Halverson, Mrs. George Hibbard, Mrs. Perry Long, Mrs. E. Longstreet and many others. Women drove automobiles, checked up lists, checked the votes cast, and used their persuasive powers to get everybody out.

BROLASKI A WET.

In the camp of the wets Harry Brelaski, whose talk for the wets Monday night was the sensation of the sampaign—as he had been senerally considered "dry"—was one of the busiest workers. Brolaski again asserted yesterday that he would be for prohibition if it were general, but that he opposed the Wyllie local option law, which he considers a joke. The drys scornfully said that Brolaski's speech Monday night made votes for them.

Harry Meacham, a real estate dealer, was manager of the dry campaign, assisted by E. M. Wardwell and R. C. Fritz, while Cleveland Hoansler handled the wet campaign. Hoansler was in splendid humor when the result was announced. He said he attributed the victory largely to the votes and work of women who when the result was amounted. Its said he attributed the victory largely to the votes and work of women who believed that Redondo Beach would cease to figure among the important resorts if a narrow policy was adopted.

Fritz took defeat smilingly and agreed with Hoansier in the statement that the votes of women decided the issue. He felicitated the opposition on the clean campaign waged and further stated that if a majority of the people of Redondo Beach favored a wet town he is perfectly willing for the dampness to prevail.

Mrs. Waiter V. Brem. No. 932 Maitman avenue, accompanied by her 4 year-old daughter, Gwendolyn, left yesterday morning, en route for England, where little Gwendolyn is to be placed under the care of Dr. Robert Jones of Liverpool, in the hope that this famous orthopedic specialist will succeed in restoring to the little one the use of her limbs.

Eighteen months ago little Gwendolyn was one of the first to contract infantile paralysis when this dread epidemic occurred in Southern California, and since that time the little one has never walked. Everything that money and skill could devise has been done for the baby and as a last resort, Mrs. Brem is making the long trip over-sea to place her tiny girl in the hands of the Liverpoel specialist who has performed miraculous cures. Mrs. Brem expects to remain abroad several months, but baby Gwendolyn will be gone at least a year, when it is hoped she will be returned home a well child.

Mrs. Brem and daughter will sail from New York on the Hamburg-American liner Ameriks.

It Is Not Price Only That Counts

Sift to the bottom any proposition which seemingly offers a Piano or Player-Piano at a price below its value. Underneath every "phenomenal price reduction" lies future regret for the purchaser. By no magic can good material and high-class workmanship be turned into good Pianos and sold at prices altogether out of proportion to the cost of production.

Our Pianos are worth no less this month than last; no more next month than this; they are built right-by the foremost factories in America - priced right, and the greatest inducement for you to purchase here lies in their unfailing quality and the fact that every dollar invested with us buys One Hundred Per Cent. in Piano Quality, Efficiency and Service. would wait until the end of the trial he would be given permission.

The end of the trial came, Bixby was acquitted, and the plans for the wedding were made. A hasty trip to a near-by county seat was followed by a brief ceremony, and the bride returned to her home at Claremont, tarrying only a few hours, when she and her husband came to the city and caught a train for San Francisco.

Mrs. Barker admitted last night that her daughter was married, and said that her husband is an art manufacturer in San Francisco. She could not give his residence there, and confessed that she isn't any too well acquinted with him. However, she added, he is a very nice young man, has good intentions and lots of money, and will no doubt be happy with Clee Helen, and make her happy too.

Early yesterday morning a crowd began to gather on the fifth floor of the Hall of Records, where Tax Collector Welch was in waiting with Chief Deputy Alfonso and the other clerks ready to take the coin of the tax-payers. The line was directed to the index window, where persons were told to which window they should apply. As soon as they got their bills they went to the cashier's office and paid.

This morning Tax Collector Welch will place the money in a bank and give a certified check to the County Treasurer. This procedure will be followed from day to day.

Torn by conflicting emotions—the natural love of a daughter for her father and her love for her stepmother, the only mether she ever knew—little Elizabeth Meiklejohn has become the shuttle-cock in a sruggle for guardianship between Matthew C. Meiklejohn, a merchant tailor, and his wife. Through habeas corpus proceedings instituted at Santa Ana last Saturday, Meiklejohn obtained possession of his daughter, who, he alleged, was being kept away from him without authority by his wife with whom he has not been living since January, up to which time they lived at No. 1435 West Twenty-seventh street.

Mrs. Meiklejohn, through her attorney, George L. Sanders, will file a petition this morning in the Superior Court asking that Metklejohn's appointment as guardian of Elizabeth be set aside. On account of the disputed possession of a 160-acre desert-land entry in Imperial Valley, George W. Comerford of the field service of the hand department at the Federal building, has started an investigation.

In 1906, Cora McCall made final proof on the land, but later the patent was held up, to chable the woman to show more definitely what portion of the land had been improved, and also as to her ownership of waterstock. The demands of the General Land Office had not been compiled with, and the entry was canceled.

Later, Frank Cole, who had been summoned to this city as a witness in a contested land case, saw by the records in the land office that the entry had been canceled; he filed on it. The acreage is now one of the excellent farms in the Imperial Valley.

Mrs. McCall has filed an application to have her entry reinstated. Her claim will be resisted. According to the statements of Federal officials, the information requested of Mrs. McCall could have easily been supplied, and the equities of the case are with her. The woman is in possession of the land, but it is reported that Cole in-

NO TIME FOR ROMANCE.

N Think of Venice without gondolas! What would become of the glamour which history and romance throw about that ancient city? Yet the disappearance of the gondolas and gondoliers from the canals and lagoons which are the thorough-fares of Venice is not only possible but very probable. As a matter of fact they are rapidly becoming scarce. The change began thirty or more years ago, when small steam vessels began to be utilized in place of the craft which have done so much to make Venice famous. The development of the motor boat has hastened the process. It appears that the power boats are both speedler and cheaper than the gondolas. So again is to be seen the spectacle of picturesqueness sacrificed to convenience and celerity, says the Times

The gondola has been a feature of Ven-ice life for a thousand years. It has fig-ured in art, in song and in story, and it lent itself with exceptional readiness to the conditions of the past. But time works transformations in the most conservative communities. Damascus and Jerusalem have street cars and electric lights. Troiley lines run to the Pyramids from Cairo and elsewhere in storied Egypt. It was not to be expected that Venice, even with all the hoary traditions associated with the place, could cling to a means of transportation so slow and so out of keeping with odern ideas as the gondela!

ful citizens in San Francisco realized that its water supply was inadequate. mprehensive surveys were made from Eel River in the north to the Tuo River in the south. As a result the Tuolumne River, its source in the Hetch-Hetchy Valley, draining 1501 square miles of mountains, with an annual rainfall of from twenty to fifty inches and a mean annual run-off of twenty-four inches, or nearly 2,000,000 acre feet, was selected. Hetch-Hetchy Valley is a gorge in the Yosemite National Park, thirty miles from Yosemite Valley proper. The watershed is composed wholly of granite mountains on which there is a heavy snowfall every winter. It is proposed to convert the valley into a magnificent lake, and store the water from the melting snows which now run off in torrential floods each year, doing good to no one and at times causing dam-

Every engineering, sanitary and eco nomic factor favors the Hetch-Hetchy Valley as a source of water supply for San Francisco. It is free from complicating possibilities outside the national reserva tion, and the project will cost $20,000,000 less than any other feasible project for furnishing an adequate supply.

Investigations were made by various boards, and applications to the Interior Department at Washington were presented, but up to the present time San Francisco authorization to proceed with the work. A bill is now pending in Congress making to the municipality of San Francisco a grant of the Yosemite waters, and a place to im-pound them in Hetch-Hetchy Valley and Lake Eleanor Basin in the Yosemite National Park, and Cherry Valley in the Stanislaus National Forest. Also a right of way over the public lands not exceeding 250 feet in width on which to construct canals, aqueducts and pipe lines to convey the water to San Francisco

The grant proposed in the Hetch-Hetchy bill as reported from the House Committee on Public Lands seems to be abundantly guarded in every particular. Homestead, mining and right-of-way claims are not to be affected by it. The cutting of timber is forbidden, except so much as may be actually necessary to construct, repair and operate reservoirs, dams, power plants and electric works; and all timber taken from ful tence must be maintained on each side of the right of way. The right of way must be cleared of debris or inflammable material. The government is to have the free use of all telegraph and telephone lines con-structed by the grantee. All reservoirs, dams, conduits, power plants, water power and electric works, bridges, fences and other structures not of a temporary character are required to be sightly, and "of suitable exterior design and finish," so as to and its use as a park.

The city is also required to return to the Tuo umne River above the La Grange dam for the use of the irrigation districts all surplus or waste water resulting from the development of hydro-electric energy.

It must sell such power at rates to be fixed under the laws of California or, in the absence of such laws, at prices to be approved by the Secretary of the Interior. It must, within three years, maintain apparatus ca pable of developing and transmitting not less than 10,000 horse power; within ten years, 20,000 horse power; within fifteen years, 30,000 horse power, and within twenty years, 60,000 horse power.

The passage of the bill is opposed by some farmers in the San Joaquin Valley. Those who are using water or who have filed a declaration of intention to use water have their rights amply protected by the bill. We have therefore the thirst of 750,000 human beings on the one side to supply and on the other side the thirst of the land. The people of California have decided in favor of the demand of human beings, and that is evidenced by the action of their Legislature and by the universal demand of that State, leaving out a very limited area in the San Joaquin Valley, whose require-ments can be met from other sources."

CANADIAN GRAIN.

The new tariff will be to Canada the most magnificent present that one country ever received from another, and the exense thereof will be borne by the grain farmers of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Ilnois, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Hither to the only outlet for Canadian grain has een by the Great Lakes via Ft. William and Port Arthur to England, Canadian grain matures later than does grain in the Middle West and the lakes freeze and navigation ceases when only half the crop is threshed. When the Canadian eleare filled after navigation has closed, the grain arriving must remain in cars, where it is more or less damaged. A car shortage results, and the grain lies on the ground all winter, as few farmers have any way to keep it under cover. The weather deteriorates it so that its rat-ing is reduced to No. 3, and sometimes to No. 6, and it is often rated as "tough" or "feed," which means that it will sell for 30 cents a bushel when No. 1 sells for 90 cents. From this the freight is deducted, as also an allowance for shrinkage, and the cost of team hauling ten to twenty miles. Often the find it cheaper to let the grain rot on the ground and plow it under for a fertilizer. Very little stock has been raised in Western Canada owing to the tariff duty and the absence of a near-by local market in the Dominion.

There is always little bit of moisture in new wheat, and after standing quite a while in cars, this was sure to cause moisture to come out. Then in that climate the moisture was sure to freeze, and it went probably "No. 5, frozen, wet," which is 10 cents to 15 cents below No. 5.

The advantage of being able to ship grain into United States markets instead of having it held up awaiting the thaw in the lakes in May will save millions of dollars. Most of the American railroads of the Northwest built spurs to reach the border when they anticipated reciprocity few years ago and are prepared to run in Canada to meet these spurs, which will of only two or three as at present, Another great advantage lies in the fact that, although the quoted price of wheat may be the same here as in Canada, it grades higher here. Almost no wheat up there is graded above No. 4, which means that it brings 60 cents or 65 cents when No. 1 is 95 cents or more, and the same Americans in Canada are doing most of the big farming and they will profit largely by the Wilson-Underwood tariff. THE LOOKING GLASS OF LITERATURE.

BY GORDON RAY YOUNG.

The literature of a period reflects the personality of the people as surely and as unflatteringly as a looking-glass, for only those of us who are debutantes or dudes can stare into the placid mirror without tremulous misgivings. In staring into the literature of this period we cannot fail to see ourselves reflected as grossly igno-rant, sensation-craving and far below the rant, sensation-craving and far below the standards that we know to be good.

One of the biggest publishing houses in the world has announced the policy of "fewer and better books." Just what is meant by better books is difficult to tell, for contemporaries are never accurate judges of their associates. Certainly it is not meant those ponderous folios in which the hero and heroine are chased through page after page by the villain who is predestined to tumble headilong into a nit due for others. tumble headlong into a pit dug for others, a book in which all of the virtuous are ex tolled by name and long preachments are inserted through the medium of conversa

A "good" book is largely a personal equa-tion and depends on the taste of the reader. Some people dislike Shakesreare, though few are courageous enough to admit it, and some people dislike music, even as Dr. Johnson, who preferred the rattle of tinpans to Haydn's symphonies. Certainly no man ever lived who talks with all the met aphorical bombast of Shakespearean char acters, but actions, so we are informed, speak louder than words and their actions

Recognized standards, however, have been established by those conceded as authorities. And as long as Macaulay's opinion is honored, no one will ever call Montgomery a poet. The worst that Montgomery ever did was to waste the time of the reader, whereas Macaulay stands convicted of having polished history with his imagi-nation and of impaling verities on the ra-pier of paradox. We have established—or pier of paradox. We have established—or rather accurate historians, not nearly so interesting, have established—that Macau-lay's history is chiefly good as a rheto-rician's text-book, and not as one for a student anxious to get at the frigid truth in English affairs from the reign of James

The books of Dickens are considered "good" by those who enjoy them. Others claim to be so shocked by the irregular grammar of the author that their sensitive youls will not permit them to enjoy the vagaries of his grotesque characters.

Victor Hugo was considered the greatest author of his day. His novel, "Les Miser ables," has for it claimants who would place it as the greatest ever written.

George Meredith was generally accorded the ranking novelist of this period, and yet as one illustrious critic said: "He could do everything but tell a story." His novels are hard to read, but worth the trouble.

There are any number of other female.

There are any number of other famed and worthy authors who are considered great, and whose books are marked by authentic approval as "good." After whom shall the publishers order their hacks to pattern in the effort to turn out "good" books?

Until a few years ago Dumas-esque fic-tion was all the rage; we sipped blood from every page and were threatened with heart trouble by reason of consternation over the hero's perils in every chapter. Then came a vigorous attempt to force down our throats psychological treatises that has not yet abated. Henry James was dean of the cult, and those who are able to understand him say that he is great. Along the same line came spiritualism, hypnotism and all the other "isms" in the thought dome of frantic authors struggling for an idea. And all of it was more or less popular, and still is, despite the fact that loud voices are raised to condemn it.

So, what shall be called a "good" book? When will the publisher be able to pat him-self on the back for having benefited humanity by adding a new treasure to the literary museum? Address the question to the Sphinx. It can give as good an answer when the different conditions extant at this day and those which obtained when our now considered great authors were writing are compared the reason is obvious. Fifty years ago there was no great number of authors. There was no great. number of authors. There was no great, heterogeneous class of readers. Taste was more unified and usually distinguished by the different "schools" as represented by ome famous writer and his satellite very small reading public usually knew months before its publication that such and such an author was writing a book, and conjecture was bandled back and forth as to what it would be like. When out, it was to what it would be like. When out, it was read with avidity and discussed with enread with aviolty and discussed with en-thusiasm. The market was not swamped and there was plenty of time to re-read the books thought to be best before another book from a recognized author appeared. The value of a book was usually sustained and condemned by two or more oligarchies of readers who had a monopoly on the knowledge of the literature of the day. The mass of the people was not interested.

Consider present conditions and it is easy to realize how hopeless it is for any pubto realise how hopeless it is for any pub-lisher to know that he is turning out a really "good" book, one that will meet with more than temporary fame, which, incident-ally, is no indication that it is meritorious. Almost every person not only can read, but does read. The wide circulation of the newspapers indicates that. Being such an enormous number of readers there are in-numerable tastes to be gratified, and it is utterly impossible to expect them, or any great number of them, to be satisfied by the same book. Our "schools" consist almost entirely in having authors imitate the plot of the latest successful book. As when the salacious period to which even the fleshy statue of Shakespeare—Hall Caine—succumbed. After the tremendous success of "The Prisoner of Zenda" we had historical novels until good, old, sound historians could hardly tell whether they were writing fiction or paraphrasing chronicles.

There have been many "good" books published in the last decade. And I say "good" because the conscientious reader has been able to find from that number several that pleased, although it may have been as discouraging as looking for something intelligible to a child in a volume of Browning. I did not say that there had been any "great" books published—for he who is a judge of contemporary greatness must be in good standing with the Delphian priestess, and gain knowledge elsewhere than in good standing with the Delphian priestess, and gain knowledge elsewhere than

BOY FATALLY WOUNDS BROTHER; AN ACCIDENT.

W schoolbey residing with his parents at No. 1226 Indiana street, was fatally shot by the accidental discharge of a small caliber pistel in the hands of his 12-year-old brother, Jesse, shortly after 9 o'clock last night. He was hurried in the police ambulance to the Receiving Hospital immediately after the shooting.

Indirectly, the cause of the unfortunate accident may be traced to baby's grief at being denied possession of a loaded pistel, carelessly left in a bureau drawer in the absence of the parents.

Jesse, Willie and Baby Audry were left alone last night while the parents attended a Salvation Army meeting a few blocks from their home. The baby, 2 years old, toddling about the room, watched by the elder brothers, found the weapon and with surgles of delight showed it to his playmates. Realizing the danger, Jesse, who had been left in charge of his younger companions, took the pistel from the Green Things of Which Land-Rate Fight Based on Different Tariffs for Different Classifications. Clay Schedules Under Fire.

Commissioner Gordon of the State
Raliroad Commission for solution tomorrow in the case of the Huntington Land and Improvement Company vs. the Southern Pacific. The hearing is scheduled for 10 o'clock in the morning in the Supreme Court rooms in the Bullard building.

The complaisant company alleges that certain shrubs, intended for landscape gardening purposes, were shipped by it as plants in ignorance of the fact that raliroad usages impose a higher rate on plants than on shrubs. The company asks the commission to class the plants as shrubs and to allow it a refund in the sum of the money difference between the handling of a car of vegetable products as plants and as shrubs.

In a lengthy session of counter-

In a lengthy session of countercharges, Gordon heard the case yesterday of the Merchants' Traffic Association va. the Southern Facific and the Santa Fe, and, by inference, the Alber Hill Coal and Clay Company.
The charge was that existent raw clay rates between Alber Hill and Corons and this city are unreasonable and have operated to prevent the utilization by the brick and tile makers of this city of the "inexhaustible" clay deposits surrounding Corons.

Secretary Stewart of the association of this city of the "inexhaustible" clay deposits surrounding Corons.

Secretary Stewart of the association, as the representative of the ciayusers of this city and vicinity, urged that there would be a saving of between $75,000 and $100,000 yearly to the clay-users of this city alone, and a concomitant reduction in the price of brick and tile, through a reduction of raw-clay rates to a reasonable basis. He further claimed that the railroad earnings per mile below Tehachepf's top are such that the reduction sought would not be a perceptible drain on the exchequers of the common carriers. The claim was also made that the Alber Hill Coal and Clay Company is earning remarkable dividends on its investment. The Corona Champer or Commerce appeared as an intervenor on the side of the plaintiff.

Attorneys for the railroad companies and for the Alber Hill Coal and Clay Company entered a general denial to the charges of the plaintiff. The railroads claim was that the rates charged are commensurate with the service performed; the cay company maintained that it is furnishing the raw material at a cost which permits the makers of the finished product to realize substantial returns on their investment, Vernon arena last night surely missed a treat.

While Dundee was fully entitled to the decision, he only won it in the twentieth round of the fastest twenty-reund contest that ever took place in the Vernon arena, not barring the Charley LeDoux-Kid Williams contest that took place several months ago.

There were a good many fans present and all voted it an even thing up to the end of the nineteenth round and all left the arena satisfied with the decision given by Georgie Blake, who took the place of Charley Eyton, and agreed that it was the fastest contest ever seen in Southern California.

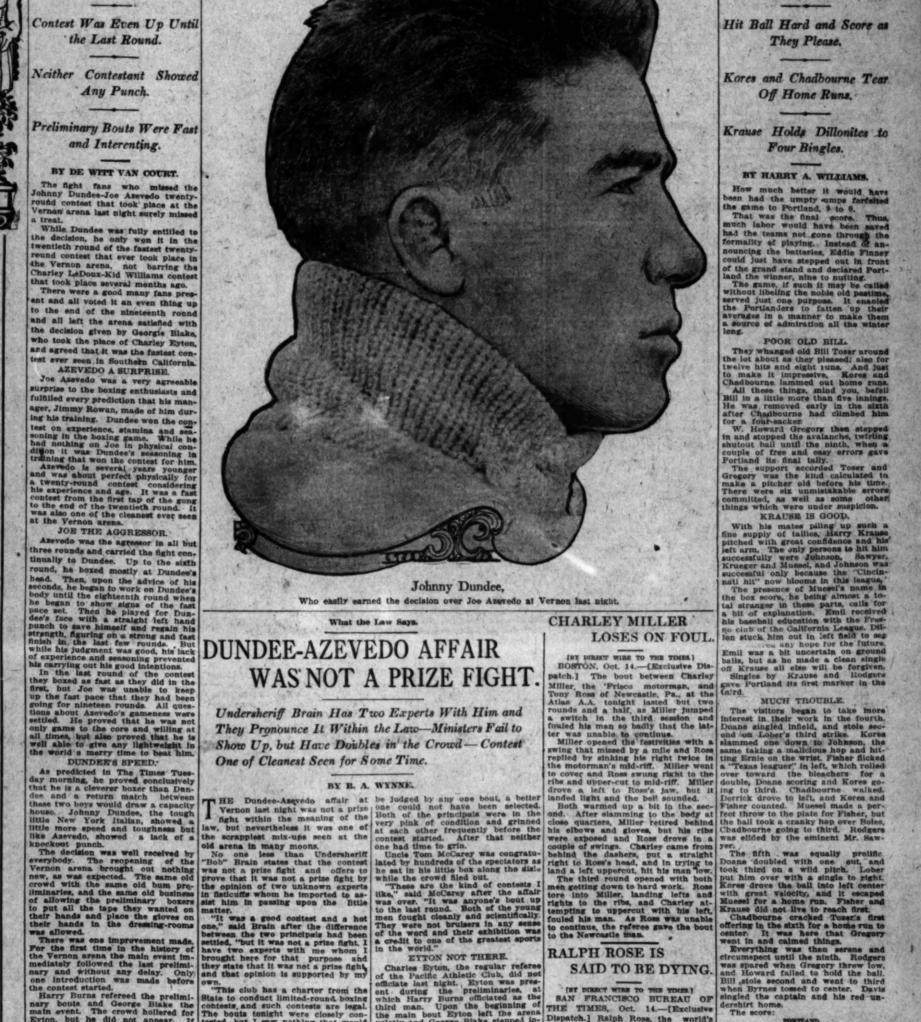

AZEVEDO A SURPRISE.

Joe Azevedo was a very agreeable surprise to the boxing enthusiasts and fulniled every prediction that his manager, Jimmy Rowan, made of him during his training. Dundee wen the contest on experience, stamina and seasoning in the hoxing game. While he had nothing on Joe in physical condition it was Dundee's seasoning in training that won the contest for him. Azevedo is several years younger and was about perfect physically for a twenty-round contest considering his experience and age. It was a fast contest from the first tap of the gong to the end of the twentieth round. It was also one of the cleanest ever seen at the Vernon arena.

WE KNEW WE HAD A GREAT SHOW AND LAST NIGHT YOU COULDN'T GET YOUR NOSE INSIDE THE DOOR

Is the biggest dramatic play that has been written in years. It is is better in this play than it has been in months. The work of Thos. McLarnie, Grace Trayers, Morgan Wallace, Donald Bowles, James Corrigan, and others of the big Burbank company stands out like a house after. Then again everybody wanted to see and judge for themselves the work of Los Angeles' youngest who is covering herself with glory this week. We have seen Miss Los Angeles critics said of her performance in the "Third Degree." Otheman Stevens in "The Examiner"—"A girl who can make her audiences apparently at will either cry or laugh after two Paley will do the figuring."

Henry C. Warnack in "The Times"—"Miss Paley's part requires at least twenty different scales of personality and she touches them all with the summate artistry. Without a word she moves to tears. Her pantomines are as great as her best lines. It is impossible to believe that the woman responsible for this splendid creation is only nineteen years of age." Monroe Lathrop in "The Tribune"—"Miss Paley proved her claim to a permanent place on the stage because of versatile ability in a performance of an emotional role that did not suffer by comparison with Helen Ware."

"The Herald" (William Parker—"Selma Paley is as convincing in drama as she is in comic opera. Truly a remarkable young woman with a brilliant future before her. Nothing more could be asked of her than what she gives." gives."
"Los Angeles Express"—"Her performance proves her to be an actress of promise in histrionic work demanding emotional qualities of no mean order."

RIGHTS OF CRIPPLES.

The Charities Commission would like for remove from the downtown streets all cripples who either beg or conduct minor businesses, but there is a question of the constitutionality of such legislation being attacked.

The subject was given further discussion at yesterday's meeting of the commission, and Deputy City Attorney Westover stated that he doubted the city being able to enforce an ordinance with this intent. The matter was referred to him, and if it is deemed practicable, an ordinance to this effect will be prepared and recommended for passage by the City Councille.

WINS DAMAGES.

The $40,000 damage suit of Dr. ohn H. Daugherty against C. E. Love or Injuries to himself and the death for injuries to himself and the death of his wife, as the result of an auto accident, resulted in an award of $7500 by a jury in Judge Houser's ourt yesterday. The trial was hard fought, Dr. Daugherty, represented by Jones & Evans, alleging negligence on the part of the driver of the machine, Earl ground that the statute of limitations thad run.

Goudge, counsel for Wallace, raised another point, that Fleming, by a letter written in 1909, and made a part of Wallace's answer, had fair knowledge of the fraud, if any had been committed by Wallace, and that it constituted a bar to any further proceedings. John C. Miles, counsel for Fleming, was allowed to file briefs on this point, the court stating that in other respects he was satisfied the complaint stated a cause of actions.

A non-suit was granted in the case of C. E. Love, as he showed he had given the auto to hi sson, Harry, and that the latter owned it. Love and Bothwell were made defendants. The award was $2500 for Dr. Daugherty's injuries, and $5100 for the death of his wife.

REDUCE ARGUMENT ON ISSUE.

The litigation in the Adcadia B. de Baker $7,000,000 estate, argued in the Probate Court for two weeks, was submitted yesterday. Judge Rives granted the motion to have the argument reduced to typewriting. The argument was on a demurrer to the petition of the Stearns heirs to have a partial distribution of the estate.
The case hinges on the constitutionality of subdivision 8 of section 1886 of the civil code, and the question whether Mrs. De Baker was the widow of Stearns her first husband, or the widow of Col. R. D. de Baker, her second husband. On this decision depends whether the Stearns heirs or the De Baker and Bandini heirs inherit the large estate. iess moribund Good Government Organization; J. A. Arnold, Commissioner Martin Bekins of the Public Utilities Board; H. A. Hart, late of the Aqueduct Investigation Commission. E. E. Shafer, engineer of that board, and G. W. Slocumb, national organizer for the single-taxers, were present to air their views.

Dunlop, who is responsible for the proposed ordinance, this being a more drastic form of an ordinance originally proposed by Councilman Haines Reed, urged its adoption, declaring that if it had been in effect before the last power bond election the issue would not have been defeated. Two members of the committee declare they will not recommend it unless it is modied.
